tenant Commander Jones, U. S. N., with his two little girls, will leave in the next few days for Montrose, Pa., to pass the summer.

An interesting wedding took place last evening at the Presbyterian Church of Takoma Park, when Miss Sara Elizabeth Watkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Watkins, was married to Harry Leo Steiner, of Knightstown, Ind. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Thomas C. Clark, performed the ceremony, which was attended by a large number of relatives and friends. The church was decorated with quantities of roses and palms, and the music organist gave the program of music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a lovely gown of white satin trimmed with princess lace. Her veil was of tulle and arranged with orange blossoms to her coiffure, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Jessie Marie Watkins, was maid of honor and wore a gown of yellow crepe meteor with lace and chiffon and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Little Miss Doris and Evelyn Miller, nieces of the bride, in dainty lace frocks over slips, were flower girls, carrying baskets of pink roses, and Master Benson Johnson, in a white satin pages suit, was ring bearer.

Clifton Eldridge, of Knightstown, was best man, and the ushers were Dr. A. L. Miller, Walter Wakefield, Edwin Dudley, and Harold Lincoln.

3,000 AT OPENING OF SCHOOL PLAYGROUND

For Six Weeks Now the Children May Amuse Themselves Under Eye of Directors.

"Me for the giant slide. And pipe the new see-saws—"

"They're for the kids. First pickens for a baseball game."

"Why don't they keep those girls on their own side, where they belong?"

There were no formalities connected with the opening. When Miss Olive Wright swung open one gate, and her assistant, Miss Rose Carrol, opened another, there was a rush, a scramble, confused shout, and the season was on. Swings, volley ball nets, basketball courts, tether ball poles, see-saws, croquet sets, and the sand box all were crowded during the morning. The rain that began to fall about 11 o'clock failed to dampen the ardor of the enthusiasts. Girls worked at the school garden, where the young idea is taught to observe and to help "things to grow."

Each Friday night at the Bowen School playground there will be a net program, with older folk invited in to look on.

Playgrounds are under the direction of Dr. Rebecca Stonerod. It was estimated that more than 2,000 children visited the playgrounds on the first day. They are to remain open six weeks. They will be open mornings from 9:30 o'clock until noon, and each evening from 5 o'clock until 8.
